D                           F
Seems like everyday you cross my mind
C                   G
Even after such a long long time
D                             F
I m still thinking about the way you smile
    C                   G                 D              F     C G
It tears me apart, to know that it won t ever be the same again
            D            F      C G
No it won t ever be the same again

          D            F
Now i m sorry that i left you
   C
I can t go back
    G
I can t change anything
      D       F          C
I m sorry that i said so long
   G
I never meant to hurt you
   F       C        D   F   C           G
Sorry i waited so long        (that i waited so long)

D                           F
Not really sure what i m doing back here
    C                     G
Or why i stayed away for all those years
  D                     F
I guess i had to try to find myself
I m the only one to blame
  G              D                 F     C G
```

No one else can ever make it all go away
              D                 F              C G
Or make up, make up for all my mistakes

            D              F
Now i m sorry that i left you
I can t go back
     G
I can t change anything
        D         F            C  G
I m sorry that i said so long

             D              F
Now i m sorry that i left you
     C
I can t go back
     G
I can t change anything
        D         F            C
I m sorry that i said so long
      G
I never meant to hurt you

    F        C         G
Sorry i waited so long
    F        C         G
Sorry i waited so long

             F               C
If i could do this all over
      G
I d wanna go back, i d wanna go back
             F          C
If i could only start over
          G
I would take it all back
                              F
I would take it all back for you
I would take it all back for you
