Verse

D D G
The sun was shining, the sky was crying
D D G
It just tore apart and down came the rain
D D G
I was soaking, yeah I was freezing but,
D D G
I was feeling no kind of pain

D D G
Come a fireball, I held it in my hand
D D G
You see before you a man who s known greatness
D D G
I had a vision, a revelation
D D G
I took a look inside of me, and I am a sensation

D D D A G D D
Days like these I feel like I can change the world
D D D A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world

Verse

D                    D        G
It s either easy, or it s impossible
D                    D                    G
But if you ain t got it you ain t never gonna get it
D                    D                    G
Once you find it, you gotta grab it you gotta,
D                    D                    G
Reach down your own throat and yank it to the surface

D                    D        G
It may be brutal. It may be gory
D                    D        G
But whatever else it is, it s my story
D                    D        G
And I believe it, yeah, I can see it
D                    D                    G
I sing it out, shout it out, Gimme death or glory

D                    D                    D            A G D D
Days like these I feel like I can change the world
D                    D                    D            A G D D
Days like these I feel like I can change the world

Bridge

C                    G                    G    D
Days like these, days like these
D                    A
You know I think I ll move a mountain or two
C                    G                    G    D
Days like these, days like these
D                    A
Anything you want, you know I ll get it for you

Whoa Whoa Ohhhh

Days like these I feel like I can change the world

Verse

NC
The sun was shining, I was crying
NC
I saw a thousand people singing in the rain
NC

And I was thinking about the Indians

NC

And how they say, true wisdom only comes from pain

D                    D    G

Come a rumbling, humbling feeling

D                    D        G

Like things will never ever be the same

D                    D        G

But what doesn't kill ya only makes you stronger

D                    D            G

And today I'm strong enough, and anyway, I love the rain

D                    D                    D        A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world

D                    D                    D        A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world        Oh on a day like these

D                    D                    D        A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world

D                    D                    D        A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world        Ah, change the world

D                    D                    D        A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world

D                    D                    D        A G D D

Days like these I feel like I can change the world        Feel I can change the world
