Chords and words:

```
Am                C                F
Shake and stir yourself into a bad excuse,
                C a half-hearted fuck you
Am                                C
Imagine all the nowhere places we d have been,
                F                C
my cynicism aside and let me try

G                                F
To turn these awful words
G                                F
into a cure not a curse

Am                                C
Cause I m still drawn by the kids in the corners
                F                C
Those lovely angels, alone on benches
Am
Still making pleas to the kid whose clothes don t fit
or hasn t found himself just yet
F                                C
let alone the chance to love

G                                F
You cross them off your list
G                                F
This shit is piling up hand over fist
