chorus 1

E lust of the libertines
A
is really quite tame
E
It rages quite nice here beside you
A
and your lust for fame
E
well fames such a sinister game, i know
A
it could all end this way then
E
some things wont be the same
A
i m just a face, and a name on a page
E
well i ll be soundly sleeping, i ll be soundly sleeping
A
i ll sleep right through that age

verse

E
well i can deal with all the blood on my shoes

and the holes in my soul
A
my spirit is tainted all my tears are fainted
E
just as long as you
B
you dont forget to E uh-oh-oh
A

cut me on the wall

E

B

by the graffiti of all the the things i just couldn t say

E

C#m

shove me up the wall

E

oh my darling was the kind of loving now

E

you ve left me in the family way again

verse 2 (as verse 1)

the dust on my tambourine

really can be explained

i need to shake it more often

shake away the blame

well fames such a sinister game

oh i know

the taste of goulash in your mouth as you stumble off stage forget-me-nots bloom on this day then

but they wither with age

chorus

outro (same as verse)

end
