 Dm A#
You took a time bomb and a case of crackers
 C (C-A) Dm (Dm-A#) F (F-C)
And you made a maelstrom of organic debris,
 Dm A#
then you took a work bench, and a rusty anvil,
 C (C-A) Dm (Dm-A#) F (F-C)
and you polished them for everyone to see,

 Dm A#
you have created an unhealthy monster,
 C (F-G) A A
but you re nowhere but nowhere to be found,
 Dm A#
so I guess I ll just cope with my provisions,
 C (C-A) Dm (Dm-A#)
From now until the day they lay me down

F (F-C) Dm Dm A# F C C

 Dm A#
You took a baboon and made him perfect
 C (C-A) Dm (Dm-A#) F (F-C)
You took a lion and stripped him of his pride
 Dm A#
Then you took a million more varieties a scalpel and a sartory
 C (C-A) Dm (Dm-A#) F (F-C)
And you stitched up a horrible surprise

 Dm A#
You have created an unsocial monster
 C (F-G) A A
And you re searched for all over the globe
 Dm A#
And most believe that things would sure be better
 C C Dm Dm
If you d come down here and tell us what you know

C Dm
Who is to blame for this? Someone tell me please

C Dm
His handiwork is flawed and it s there for all to see

C Dm
Mutations, aberrations and blatant anomalies

A# A# C (C-A)
They multiply and give rise to this...monstrosity,

Dm A#
You took the most abundant smallest bits of matter
C Dm
And you instilled them with affinity
Dm A#
And then you stratified accumulations Weeded out bad variations
C Dm
And blended up your unique recipe

Dm A#
You have created a powerful monster
C (F-G) A A
With direction and purpose all its own
Dm A#
And if you were here would things be any different?
C (C-A) Dm (Dm-A#)
Or are you just a mosaic of thoughts alone?
