

Memory

Barbra Streisand

A

Midnight

F#m

Not a sound from the pavement

D

Has the moon lost her memory?

C#m

She is smiling alone

Bm

In the lamplight

F#m

The withered leaves collect at my feet

E

And the wind

Begins to moan

A

Memory

F#m

All alone in the moonlight

D

I can smile at the old days

C#m

I was beautiful then

Bm

I remember

F#m

The time I knew what happiness was

E

Let the memory

A

Live again

C#m D7M(9)(b5) D7M

Every street lamp

C#m D7M(9)(b5) D7M

Seems to beat

C#m A B E E7

A fatalistic warning

C#m F#m7

Someone mutters

B7

E7M

And a street lamp gutters

C#m

F#7

B7

And soon it will be morning

A

Daylight

F#m

I must wait for the sunrise

D

I must think for a new life

C#m

And I mustn't give in

Bm

When the dawn comes

F#m

Tonight will be a memory too

E

And a new day

D A

Will begin

[Solo] F Dm Bb F

Am Bb7M(9)(b5) Bb7M

Burnt out ends

Am Bb7M(9)(b5) Bb7M

Of smoky days

Am F G C

The stale cold smell of morning

Am Dm7

The street lamp dies

G7 C7M

Another night is over

Am D7 G7

Another day is dawning

C

Touch me

Am

It's so easy to leave me

F

All alone with the memory

Em

Of my days in the sun

Dm

If you touch me

Am

You'll understand what happiness is

G

Look, a new day

G4(7/9) C

Has begun
