

Marx And Engels
Belle and Sebastian

Belle and Sebastian - Marx and Engels
From I m Waking Up To Us, 2001.

Capo 3

Intro: C# G# F# C# B F# Ebm G#

C# G# F# C#
There is misery in all I hear and see, from the people on T.V.

B F# Ebm G#
After their tea when life begins again, they ll be happier than me

C# G#
There are a thousand meals being made on Saturday

F# C# B F#
From the view I saw today, I took a bet inside the launderette,

Ebm G#
With a girl from Wallesey

C# G# F#
She spoke in dialect, I could not understand, but one thing that

C# B F# C#
She made clear, there was no coming on to her, there was no way.

Interlude from C#: G# F# C# B F# Ebm G# x2

(Repeat Verse)

Conclusion:

B F# F#
There was no coming on to her, there was no intellect, that she

Ebm C# B Ebm
Could respect, if it couldn t see, that the girl just wants to be

F# C#
Left alone with Marx and Engels for awhile,

B Ebm G#

She s writing in style, of any riot girl.

What a ballad; Aquinas says pulcra sunt quae visa placent
...perhaps if Belle and Sebastian were around in his day,
he would have changed eyes to ears.

R. T. Devitt.