

Marx And Engels
Belle and Sebastian

Belle and Sebastian - Marx and Engels
From I m Waking Up To Us, 2001.

Capo 3

Intro: E B A E D A F#m B

E B A E
There is misery in all I hear and see, from the people on T.V.

D A F#m B
After their tea when life begins again, they ll be happier than me

E B
There are a thousand meals being made on Saturday

A E D A
From the view I saw today, I took a bet inside the launderette,

F#m B
With a girl from Wallesey

E B A
She spoke in dialect, I could not understand, but one thing that

E D A E
She made clear, there was no coming on to her, there was no way.

Interlude from E: B A E D A F#m B x2

(Repeat Verse)

Conclusion:

D A A
There was no coming on to her, there was no intellect, that she

F#m E D F#m
Could respect, if it couldn t see, that the girl just wants to be

A E
Left alone with Marx and Engels for awhile,

D F#m B

She s writing in style, of any riot girl.

What a ballad; Aquinas says pulcra sunt quae visa placent
...perhaps if Belle and Sebastian were around in his day,
he would have changed eyes to ears.

R. T. Devitt.