Was trying to write my own music, came across this chord progression and it seemed right to fit with this song. Noticed there wasn't a chord progression up for it,

so thought I can't lose much.
I'll chord the first verse, but it's the same all the way through.
Nice simple way of playing it :)

A7 G7
Even now when you know
C F
How to measure up the risk

[On each chord for 4 beats :)]

You're still not tired of this Even when the pills you take
Turn you to a ghost
You still spin around the most

Because I am a member of the butterfly culture
Where we worked and we take
We play and we pray to god
But the girl in that dress will undress
And distress you with the way that she moves

I am a member of the butterfly culture
Where we worked and we take
We play and we pray to god
But the girl in that dress will undress
And distress you with the way that she moves
