Eisenhower is the father of the interstate highway system

A                    B                    C                    B    D
And my song is just a way to pay a little tribute to him
On that road my true love and I rode from Ohio to Pittsburgh
And our separate cars gave me the time to think of ways to try and kiss him
Our separate hearts beat out of time without someone to find the rhythm
When we held last night I thought I felt them simultaneously quicken
