

Like You And Everyone Else
Beth Hart

G D Em C - that s it.

I ve been to hell and it looked just like heaven,
I made a friend and I felt forgiven, like you, and everyone else.

I m ashamed but, Iâ€™m just human,
With oceans of dreams, and seas of confusion.
Like you... and everyone else..

Holding my breath when I just want to scream, hiding the face, I donâ€™t want you to see, making a mess of myself trying to be like you, and everyone else..

They put me away, told me Iâ€™m crazy, I don t belong but, maybe they ll save me,
Talked to the pain, it s been here forever, the drugs make me sane, but they don t make me better..

Holding my breath when I just want to scream, hiding the face, I donâ€™t want you to see, making a mess of myself trying to be like you, like you..

Losing my faith when I say I believe,
Looking at you for the answers I need, walking away from myself, trying to be like you, and everyone else. Everyone else..

Talked to me, talked to me, talked to me, till this is over.. Talked to me, talked to me, talked to me and I am worth fighting for..

Holding my breath when I just want to scream, hiding the face, I donâ€™t want you to see, making a mess of myself trying to be like you, like you..

Losing my faith when I say I believe,
Looking at you for the answers I need, Walking away from myself, trying to be like you, and everyone else.

(Talked to me, talked to me, talked to me, everyone else, talked to me, Talked to me, talked to me, like you..
Talked to me, talked to me, talked
To me, everyone else)

Walk in the rain, let it fall on my face.
Thereâ€™s a shadow of doubt but a sky full of grace,
Iâ€™m not like you, and everyone else..
