

Too Many Birds
Bill Callahan

First tab. Could be wrong, but sounds OK to me. Enjoy!

Progression is simply: F, Dm, Gm, C repeated throughout the song.

F Dm Gm C
Too many birds in one tree
Too many birds in one tree
And the sky is full of black and screaming leaves
The sky is full of black and screaming

And one more bird
Then one more bird
And one last bird
And another

One last black bird without a place to land
One last black bird without a place to be
Turns around in hopes to find the place it last knew rest
Oh black bird, over black rain burn
This is not where you last knew rest
You fly all night to sleep on stone
The heartless rest that in the morn, we ll be gone
You fly all night to sleep on stone, to return to the tree with too many birds
Too many birds
Too many birds

If you...
If you could...
If you could only...
If you could only stop...
If you could only stop your...
If you could only stop your heart...
If you could only stop your heart beat...
If you could only stop your heart beat for...
If you could only stop your heart beat for one heart...
If you could only stop your heart beat for one heart beat.
