The past is so familiar But that s why you couldn t stay
Too many ghosts, too many haunted dreams
               Eb
                       F
Beside you were built to find your own way...
                              D7
                                                      Gm
But after all these years, I thought we d still hold on
                            Вb
But when I reach for you and search your eyes I see you ve already gone...
                 F
                                 D7
That s OK I ll be fine I ve got myself, I ll heal in time
                           Bb
But when you leave just remember what we had...
                                       D7
                                                    D7/F#
              {\tt Bb}
                             F
There s more to life than just you I may cry but I ll make it through
                                   FF
And I know that the sun will shine again
Though I may think of you now and then...

Вb
                               Cm
Can t do a thing with ashes But throw them to the wind...
                  Bb
                                  Cm Eb
Though this heart may be in pieces now You know I ll build it up again
                                   D7
And I ll come back stronger than I ever did before
                          Bb
Just don t turn around when you walk out that door...
                                 D7
That s OK I ll be fine I ve got myself, I ll heal in time
                          Bb
But when you leave just remember what we had...
                             F
                                        D7
There s more to life than just you I may cry but I ll make it through
And I know that the sun will shine again
Though I may think of you now and then...
That s OK I ll be fine I ve got myself, I ll heal in time
And even though our stories at the end
```

I still may think of you now and then...
