

Carry The Blessed Home
Blind Guardian

F# E B D

F# E
Pale faced, the innocent

B D
Will drown in blood

E F#
Hurt and withdrawn,

E
Don t dare to steal my grief
F# E D E F#
In this haze of green and gold, he s gone

E F#
Blind my eyes and I still can see through the mist

E F#
To the very end, there I ll face what I fear the most

E F#
Blind my eyes but it all doesn t matter right now

E F# E
I would bury my dead and keep on till the end

F# E
I won t give up, I won t give up

F# E
I ll turn to the red fields of none

F# E
There s a grave, there s a rose

C#
Drift away, I can hear me say

E F#
Soon you all shall be free

E
Carry the blessed home

B F#
No one s left here but me and I ll sing out your name

E
Call me insane, I know

F# D
I ve opened my heart and my soul to you son

F# E B D F# E
So pale turns the innocence and all I feel is pain

B D F#
Suddenly I understand, he s gone

Blind my eyes and I still can see through the mist
To the very end, there I ll face what I fear the most
Blind my eyes but it all doesn t matter right now
But it all doesn t matter right now

Carry the blessed home
No one s left here but me and I ll sing out your name

Driven insane? Oh, no, no, no
What I feared the most I have faced and that s truth
The grey faced, not innocent
Though I cry in dismay, I will follow decay, I ll move on
Is there anyone here who knows how it feels to be wrong?

Blind my eyes and I still can see through the mist
To the very end, there I ll face what I fear the most
Blind my eyes but it all doesn t matter right now
But it all doesn t matter right now
matter right now, matter right now
