

Texaco
Blitzen Trapper

There aren't enough Blitzen Trapper songs on here (although they're usually pretty Texaco is one of my favorites. And I thought I'd try to figure it out, even though I'm new guitar. So this sounded pretty good to me. I think it's just C G D F repeated. I'd love to know if it's something else...

C		G
	We talked long behind the Texaco today
D		F
	She took us driving down the road for a ways
C		G
	and it was fine, my valentine
D
	You're in my mind
F		C
	Let's walk out underneath the treetops

(repeat C G D F...)

You're such a heartache, You're such a tease
so please believe me

we held hands below the Texaco today she said words that, yeah I reckon, well, They just won't stay.

So help me help me, I'm possessed and I'm bizarre Numbers tell the lies when I'm in my, driving my old car driving my old car

We talked long behind the texaco today
she said she wished, yeah but that she couldn't stay
And it's not right & it's not wrong.
No, it's somewhere in between the times of yesterday, and tomorrow... when she'll be gone, my valentine my lovely valentine will be gone Singing my old songs
driving my old car
my old valentine.

We talked long behind the texaco today
she took us driving down the road for a ways
and it was fine, yeah

my valentine
you re in my mind
lets walk out underneath the treetops...
