

The Scar
Blue October

READ FIRST:

When I note Fmaj7, I ll just put F.

When I note C9, It s really Cadd9 (no5)

This is just for all the people that would look at this and say, thats not a c9 lol

IF YOUR LOOKING TO PICK THIS:

When playing the C, you can use your pinky to hammer the third fret of the b string. When playing the Am pull off the b string.

If anybody has any input or comments, I m always listening lol.

Chords:

C x32010

Am x02210

C9 xx0530 (really Cadd9)

F X33210 (really Fmaj7)

Em 022000

The Scar

C Am
I d like to sneak around the house When everyone s asleep
C9 F Em
Tiptoe across the door mat that used to welcome me
C Am
Then gently shut the door to see a brand-new Christmas tree
C9 F Em, (hold)
And the silence pounds like a kettle drum and a chill runs through me

Chorus:

C Am
But does she ever miss me? I still hear her singing
C9 F Em
Just like an orchestra, just like a painting
C Am
With velvet brushes and wooden framing
C9 F Em
A familiar Monet that s worth renaming The scar

I choked up the dirt, completely hurt I ran straight through them all
Then pushed aside what s left of pride And trembled through the hall
And there stands a door you d seen before When all you knew you was down
And your perfume breath brought peaceful death On sleepy silver gowns

Chorus

Yeah, to wake is such a dreaded thing To sleep is such a hole
I eat without your company I drink till I unfold
And now hear the end of everything Just thrown onto the ground
But October fell and broke my shell And all I knew was down

Maya-ya-da Maya-ya-da May-ya-da, oo
Ya da die, may ya die May ya die, oo
Ya da da, oh-oh
Ya da da, ya da die, oh
