

Never Means That Nothing Will Remain Blue Sky

Never means, that nothing will remain words and music by Michael Seibt

Capo 2. ft. / three-four time

C G Hm7 Em
Sitting in my bar I was starring in my beer
C G Hm7 Hm7
Wondering how I can get out of here
C D G G
Outside a mighty cloud-burst was going down
C D G
As it never had been seen here in this town

Then the door was opened and she came in Her wet shirt was pasting on her skin
She said: "Oh, it is a shame!
Never I have seen such a rain!"

Refrain

C G C D
Never is a word hardly to sustain
C G D G
|: "cause never means that nothing will remain :|

We talked nineteen to a dozen 'til the sun was rising up
The ashtray was full of cigarette-stubs
Then we went back home
Sure we'd never be alone

Refrain

The days were full of flowers then and full of stars were the night and we enjoyed our life
I said "forever and a day"
And you swore you'd never go away

Refrain

Then one day I saw her with another man
Walking in the park hand in hand
I didn't feel any kind of pain
But never I saw her again
