

The Howling Of The Lonesome Wolf Blue Sky

words and music by Michael Seibt

C F C
The silver sun is sinking / earlier this day
C F G G
The white clouds in the sky / are fading into gray
F F
A couple of kids passing by
C C
is fearfully looking to the sky
G F C C
When the wolf is howling about noon
G F C C
When the wolf is howling about noon

An old dog is searching / for a place to hide
And a Siamese cat / is hiding by its side
The birds stop singing in the trees
The water stands still in the creek
|: When the wolf is howling about noon :|

The blood / is freezing in the veins
And the broker / is loosing all his gains
The clock stops ticking for a while the waitress sends you a scornful smile
|: When the wolf is howling about noon :|

A cool breeze from the hills / is making your flesh creep
And your wounded soul / is beginning to weep
Sheâ€™s fixing you with ice-cold eyes
Leaving you on your own device
|: When the wolf is howling about noon :|

Am C
The howling of the lonesome wolf it is a broken-hearted sound
D Em
That sends its echo all over the town â€œ
Am C
The howling of the lonesome wolf is full of suffer, full of pain
D H7
And itâ€™s burnt forever in our brains
C D E
|: Itâ€™s a mantra that forever will remain :|
