When Will I Find My Way Home
Blue Sky

words and music by Michael Seibt

```
     C#                    C#
The road is long, the way is tough
  G#                G#
And the wind is blowing rough
      C#                 C#
My backpack causes so much pain
  G#                             G#7
When IÂ´m walking through the pouring rain
  Ebm                   Ebm
Each night I search for a place
         F#                F#
Where I can lay my weary head
  G#7            G#7                    C#      C#
Hoping, that a fire will keep my warm
      C#         G#7            C#    C#
And holding a bottle in my arm
```

Refrain
```
  C#         C#/G          Bbm
Tell me, where do I belong?
  C#         C#/G          Bbm
Tell me, whatÂ´s going on?
            C#         C#/G        Bbm              Bbm
Tell me, how many water will flow down the river
    C#             C#/G          C#
Before I will find my way home?
```

A lot of girls along my way
Some of them make me stay
They lay their hearts into my hands
But I do not understand
And even, if they give their best
IÂ´m always waiting for the rest
And before they can put my hands in chains
ItÂ´s time for me to catch the next train

Refrain

So IÂ´ve been on my way
All these years by night and day
Take, what I need, make evÂ´ry job
Try to keep my head right up
I must have been everywhere
DonÂ´t know, what IÂ´ll have to dare
And where my fate will lead me next

An uncertain future in my chest

|:Refrain:|

C#/G   x 2 0 0 0 3

www.sound-of-blue-sky.de