Sunday School, by Bo Bhurnham

Chords:

A D E G (no barre chords needed)

You only need to use your pinky and ring finger when playing the G chord, since you don't ever play the low E string or the A string.

Plucking:

All you need to do is pluck the D string (4th string) with your thumb then pluck the last three strings with your index, middle, and ring finger to each of the chords throughout the whole song. You might want to look up the song just to get the rhythm down.

This is the URL to the video I looked at to write this tab.
You can see the chords and the pluck-pattern in this video.

Have fun.
