                         E7
                                    \mathbf{Bm}

                            E7
                                        Bm
                                                    E7

Jamming till the jam is through
                      E7
       Bm
We re jamming, we re jamming
                                          F#m7
To think that jamming was a thing of the past
We re jamming, we re jamming
And I hope this jam is gonna last
                               E7
No bullet can stop us now. We need neither beg nor will we bow
                           F#m7
Neither can be bought nor sold
                                   E7
We all defend the right that the children must unite
Your life is worth much more than gold
                       E7
We re jamming jamming jamming
We re jamming in the name of the Lord
We re jamming jamming jamming
We re jamming right straight from Jah
