Bob Mould - The Descent

Nice and simple song, not 100% sure if correct, just a rough draft - you can use powerchords only as well, maybe mix it up a little...

Intro:

Bb Gm Eb (4x)

Verse:

Dm Eb
I started out so starry-eyed
Bb Gm Eb (2x)

Full of hope and wonder
Dm Eb
And I wore flowers in my hair
Bb Gm Eb (2x)

Not aware I d been defiled

Bridge:

F Eb F Eb
(Every time I see you) I know it s going down
F Eb F Eb
(How can I believe you?) Karma comes around

Chorus:

Bb Cm Eb
I know this ride, you must be there by my side
Bb Cm Eb
You going down, I must be descending

(play Intro and Verse like before)

I didn t want to play the song
That gave people so much hope
I turned my back and turned away
Here s the rope that made me choke

(Every time I see you) I know it s going down
(How can I believe you?) Karma comes around

Eb Bb Cm (repeat)
You can see it in my eyes

You can read it on my face
You can hear it as I cry
God, I hope it s not too late
Can I try to make it up to you somehow?
Can I try to make it up to you somehow?

Solo-Part:

Gm F Cm Eb (2x)

Eb Bb Cm
You can see it in my eyes
Eb
You can read it on my face
Bb Cm
You can hear it as I cry
Eb Bb
God, I hope it s not too late
Cm Eb Bb
Can I try to make it up to you somehow?
Cm Bb Gm (F) Eb
Can I try to make it up to you somehow?

Bb Cm
Now my race is finally run
Eb
And as I tumble to the sun
Bb Cm
All these dreams I can t achieve
Bb Gm (F) Eb
Brought me crashing to my knees
My descent has now begun
All the music left undone
My world, it is descending

(play Eb Bb Cm Bb Gm (F) Eb until the end, end on Eb)
