                  Tabs Above
I should write down these words before I lose them
Tabs
Or write you a song just to use them
                G
                        С
 Someday you may wanna know who I am,
           G
                     C
Beyond this facade no guitar in my hand
        D
              G
No I am not a writer
TABS
These eyes hold no secrets I hide no truths
TABS
 I am all I am, all I was to you
               G
The lie and the promise, the great escape artist
The weed in your garden in that place youre still guarding
          D
Where I am not a liar
              G
 I am the fighter though not a boxer by trade
         C
                  D
 I am the fighter few will remember my name
These are hands that can offer protection
But hid me from my own reflection
 Im that book that aint finished a sink full of dishes,
                               C
 The horse that aint winning the priest thats still sinning
