Youâ€™re so pretty

Brakes

Tabbed by Billy The Kid

Intro

| B | A | B | A | E | E |

Note: While playing the intro, play A on the 5th fret, so you can use your little finger to hammer on the 7th fret of the high E string â€” listen to the song, youâ€™ll see what I mean. This also allows you to slide back to the B chord, making it sound closer to the recording.

Verse 1

B A E
a hope that sailed straight into a halo of stone
B A E
youâ€™re so pretty in this light
B A E
In the hours between morning and midday
B A E
Its kinda like youâ€™re dying over again

Chorus

F# E
You know I trust you girl,
F# E
donâ€™t fuck me up,
F# E A
Youâ€™ve got the power to.

The Interlude is the same as the intro.

Verse 2 (Follows the same pattern as the first verse)

The blood-red water in the sky outside is seeping blue

Youâ€™re surrounded in its light
They donâ€™t know what Iâ€™ve found
As long as we stay out of sight

Chorus
