Notes:

Just listened to BC's newest album and this is one of the songs I like the most out of the album. Some other guy uploaded chords for this song, but they're off. It's really easy to find out the chords within a few minutes (10 minutes to get the chords for this song) if you listen for the bass notes because there are no inversions of chords in this song.

The Bridge is kinda iffy (at least that very last line) in chord placement because it's... well, you'd understand if you heard the song. Plus, the last line, they don't play anything there. This is all just me writing down the chords for the song as I play on my acoustic so, yeah... And in case you're wondering, the words in parenthesis are the screaming parts.

And, for reference, the song is (off the top of my head):

Verse 1 > Chorus > Verse 2 > Chorus > Bridge > Chorus
