

Ive Been Eating For You
Bright Eyes

The chords pattern stays the same throughout the whole song. The C-D-C transition is actually a walk-down on the D string that is played like this

E-----|
B-----|
G-----|
D----5-4-2-0---|
A-----|

G

So, Iâ€™m just the medicine

C D C G

You take when youâ€™re sick

C D C G

You get well and thatâ€™s it

C Am D

Iâ€™m put back on the shelf in your mirror

And it isnâ€™t exceptional

The course of our fate

So, people love and they hate

And I guess itâ€™s just our turn to hate

Yeah, you were just some song I wrote

A poem on a page

A sculpture I made out of clay

Desire was the flame

But now youâ€™re more of a basketball

Boys just pass you around

They bounce you hard on the ground and dribble

And then we all get high fives

And you think Iâ€™m an asshole now

Well, youâ€™re probably right

But at least Iâ€™m not blind to the facts

Iâ€™ve been wishing were lies

But still I hope you get everything

That you care to possess

And unbelievable sex with him

Or any one of my friends

But just donâ€™t ask about my appetite

I didnâ€™t lose it tonight

No, itâ€™s been gone half my life

Itâ€™s just act, Iâ€™ve been eating for you
