

Alberts Eyes
British Sea Power

A F#m D

The emotion in a stomach acid

A F#m D

Is equal to the depth of Albert s eyes

A F#m D

And all of the equations that were mastered

A F#m D

Belong to average ordinary life

A F#m D

Yeah I know, it s so natural

A F#m D

Yeah I know, I ve been here before

Bm D F#m A

But only if I ask you

Bm D F#m

And maybe not at all

A F#m D

When you look down and see that you were playing

A F#m D

Upon the greatest oceanic truth

A F#m D

Yeah I mostly understand what you were saying

A F#m D

And after all there s quite a lot of proof

Bm D F#m A

But only if I ask you

Bm D F#m A

And maybe not at all

Bm D F#m A

Its getting colder in Alaska

Bm D F#m

But round here its getting warm

Ending

Bm D Bm D F#m