Intro A Em D

A

Mother

Em

Maiden aunt or brother

D A

On the masonry, and there are others

Em

Like you, beheaded lover

D

In the cemetery

A

Seems rather sad to me

Em

Oh seems rather sad to me

D

Oh amour centenary

Available for all to see

(chorus)

D E

But in between the morning and the evening light

Is how the days go by

D E

And in between the evening and the morning light

Oh don't the stars look nice

D E

But in between the evening and the morning light

Is how the days go by

D E

And in between the evening and the morning light

Oh don't the stars look nice

A Em D x2

repeat for verse

(verse)

At first the settings broke

Now the machinery stops

And the country s all sectioned off
Like a honeycomb
Oh cells and foam
Like separated bones
Have you been waiting for long?

(chorus) D E A

Oh in between the morning and the evening light
Is how the days go by
And in between the evening and the morning light
Oh don t the stars look nice
In between the evening and the morning light
Is how the days go by
And in between the evening and the morning light
Oh don t the stars look nice

And oh, oh oh
Oh ain t it going well?
And oh, oh oh
But it s so hard to tell

It s like everything you never said
But always meant to say
It s like everything you never did
And did it anyway

But in between the morning and the evening light
It s how the days go by
In between the evening and the morning light
Oh don t the stars look nice
