All the days we've been together, all the days we've been apart
                  Am                                  C                                  G          C/G          G
Add up to a bunch of nothing, if I'm not still in your heart.

C
I never want you to be just a page in my history
                  D                                  G
Someone I used to love.

Your voice breathed in my ear, or on the telephone
All the tender things we've whispered to keep from feeling alone
May they never come to be just cold gems set in memory of someone I used to love.

This current flows between us that cannot be denied
You draw me in towards you like the moon pulls in the tide
May no shadow ever fall that would make me have to call you someone I used to love.
