Sleepwalker - Built On Secrets

Intro: Cm Ab Eb Bb

I m running out of time, and I need you in my life
So don t fade away, in my dreams you ll stay, this world s for you and I,
And whatever path I choose, it will always feel removed,
In the end it s what means more to me, my salvation or my sanity?

I fall from the greatest heights, as I sleepwalk days into my nights
So I will just close my eyes, just to keep you in my sights
I sleep just to feel, and my dreams become so real
The line starts to blur, as to who you really were
In the search for clarity, shine your light right over me
So wake me when, the world starts making sense again

I m still a dreamer, desperate for sleep
To fall back into the state, where both of my worlds meet
I would welcome the sacrifice, one worth making for this life Simply searching for the right place, to start slipping away, because

I fall from the greatest heights, as I sleepwalk days into my nights
So I will just close my eyes, just to keep you in my sights
I sleep just to feel, and my dreams become so real
The line starts to blur, as to who you really were
In the search for clarity, shine your light right over me
So wake me when, the world starts making sense again

 We all have moments that define who we are, searching for a lifeline, a sign amongst the stars
Ab Bb Cm
 And these battles with my chest, causing me to lose my breath, I still feel the disconnect
Eb - Bb
 With nothing else left to expect
