G

Its no suprise that I m a talker

I rarely shut my mouth

D

But when you walked in the room

my voicebox headed south

C

I swallowed all my silence

and could not help to think

G

Little did my girlfriend know

D

you d would be the reason we d split

G

We sat together and traded travel stories

D

Indie kids surrounded us basking in their glory

C

Ragging on my clothes and harping over Radiohead

D

Little did they know we laughed at everything they said

D

Abigaile, I dont believe you dont love me

C

D

But we ve run out of time so I believe in every word you say

D

Abigaile, I dont believe you dont love me

C

D

But we ve run out of time so I believe in every word you say

G
I remember when your voice was the last I d hear at night

D
Before waking in the morning without you by my side

C
We were separated by the widened river streams

G D
Little did we know the river would soon burst at the seams

G
Hopelessly and stupidly treading on the truth

D
And foolishly falling so in love with you

C G
I thought I had you sorted with every word I said (you would eat up)

D
Little did I know all you wanted was a friend

G D
Abigaile, I dont believe you dont love me

C G D
But we ve run out of time so I believe in every word you say

G D
Abigaile, I dont believe you dont love me

C G D
But we ve run out of time so I believe in every word you say

G D
Still dont believe you dont deserve me

C G D
Shoulda tried a little harder, tried a little something more

G D
Still dont believe you dont deserve me

C G Em
Shoulda thought of something better to say,

C D G
shoulda tried a lil something more

G D
Abigaile, I dont believe you dont love me

C G D
But we ve run out of time so I believe every word you say

Abigaile, I know that you love me

C G D
But we ve run out of time so I believe every word you say

G D
I dont believe you dont deserve me

C G D
Shoulda tried a little harder, tried a little something more

I still dont believe you dont deserve me
Shoulda thought of something better to say,
shoulda tried a lil something more
