

Whos David
Busted

E? is an E chord with a G sharp on the bottom E string added on. ive used it before but i couldnt find out the name of it. What else? oh yeah on the bit beginning with Gsharp, these are played on the record as bass so they sound really good as fifth chords starting with the root note on the ninth fret of bottom E. Finally, if u wanna work this out properly play this along to the record. I know it aint all chords but it still sounds pretty damn good
