E                            A9
Every shiny toy that at first brings you joy
    D9                        E
Will always start to coy and annoy
     E                          A9
Every camera, every phone, all the music that you own
      D9                            E
Won t change the fact you re all alone (All alone!)
E                          A9
Every piece of land, every city that you plan
    D9                       E
Will crumble into tiny grains of sand
E                           A9
Everything you find that at first seems to shine
     D9                               E
```

```
Always turns into the same old grind (Same old grind!)

E   A9              D9    E Esus4
I . . . want to fly away
E   A9              D9    E Esus4
I . . . want to fly away

E                  A9             D9                    E           Esus4
I m so sick of you, so sick of me, I don t want to be with you
E                  A9             D9                    E           Esus4
I m so sick of you, so sick of me, I don t want to be with you

E                           A9
Every little dance, every end of that romance
     D9                        E
All alone (All alone!), all alone
E                           A9
Everything you find that at first seems to shine
     D9                        E
Always turns into the same old grind...
