[Intro]

G

[Verse]

                  G                                  G
Panic open string, power grids blackout
                  G                                  Am
Birds all fly in numbers down to the ground
                  D                                  G                  G
Reassure the blades of green, green grass

                  G                                  G
Seasons still asleep more or less
                  G                                  Am
Wind is gearing up for a reckless ride
                  D                                  G                  G
Leaning accidental on nature's side

                  G                                  G
Propeller power fields, solar panel sides
                  G                                  Am
Lightning bolts connect, it's with you I will go
                  D                                  F                  C
I close my eyes and the seasons pass

[Chorus]

  C    Em        F        C        C    Em    F        C
Above the cityscape,        the city out of reach
  C    Em        F        C    C    D        G        G
Way beyond our lives,        far below the Green

[Verse]

                  G                                  G
My dreams are all blue, so is my heart
                  G                                  Am
Light up screens of you, if you could only see

D                                  G
Time s dreams escape, late into the night

                  G                                  G
When the stars align reminds me of you

                                  G  Am
Words will lose their fear, And I will find their truth

                                  D  F                  C
Church bells in the hills they will ring and ring

[Chorus]

C          Em          F          C                  C          Em          F          C
Ocean s on the coast                  will cling to their host

          C          Em          F          C          C          D                  G          G
The sun will split in two,                  sink thru an empty sky

[Outrol]

G  Am
It s where we ll go when we

D  G (Let ring)
  Leave this place and die
