

Splitter
Calexico

Capo 2

Intro

Em B7 C G (x2)

D C G

Verse:

G

Through the gardens and fields â€˜neath the tall green grass

Em

You were walking â€˜neath the moon while covering your tracks

C

G

Working your fingers down to the skin and stone

Chorus:

Em B7 C G

One hand on the hammer, one foot by the door

Em B7 C G D

Pushed by the wind, fed by the need for moving on,

C

G

Moving on to nowhere

Verse:

G

When division runs deep and down into the well

Em

All the coins you dove after lost all their spell

C

G

Covered in moss walking for silver and blood

Chorus:

Em B7 C G

Out in the cafe, working in the grove

Em B7 C G

Guarding the port of the future you sold

D

C

G

Holding on, holding on to no one

D

C

G

Holding on, holding on to no one

Em B7 C G
One eye in the mirror, the other on the screen
Em B7 C G
Sewn in the pockets and down into the dream
Em B7 C G
Caught up in the mortar, bricks and heavy load
Em B7 C G
Wait in the shadows down the living road
 D C G
Moving on, moving on to no one
 D C G
Holding on, holding on to no one

Pretty sure this is right, although he seems to do a sort of walkdown thing between the Em and the C in the verses which I can't figure out. Anyways, great song, great band. Check out the album its from, Algiers. It's great.