

Point Of View
Cargo City

it s A and F#m the whole time. :)

You say home is where the heart is and you say you know your heart has to float escape from the places you know you would crawl and you would swim as long as you keep moving on just to experience something new and soon I ll be there, too to share your point of view I ll be there, too

to share your point of view

I think home is where the heart is and my home s still the place where you belong I followed you all along I would put on ten-league boots as long as I keep up with you I will try to be your thrill

and soon I ll be there, too
to share your point of view
I ll be there, too
to share your point of view
I ll be there, too
to share your point of view
