Two Black Cadillacs
Carrie Underwood

Intro 2x: Cm

```
Cm                                      G#
  Two black Cadillacs driving in a slow parade
Cm                                            G#
  Headlights shining bright in the middle of the day
Eb                Bb
  One is for his wife
       Cm                         G#
  The other for the woman who loved him at night
Eb              Bb                        Cm       G#
  Two black Cadillacs meeting for the first time

            Cm
  And the preacher said he was a good man
          G#
  And his brother said he was a good friend
            Bb                                            F
  But the women in the two black veils didn t bother to cry

  Bye, Bye Bye, Bye
         Cm
  Yeah they took turns laying a rose down
          G#
  Threw a handful of dirt into the deep ground
   Bb                                        F
  He s not the only one who had a secret to hide
                      Cm
  Bye bye, bye bye, bye Bye
                  G#
  Two black cadillacs, two black cadillacs

Cm                                        G#
  Two months ago his wife called the number on his phone
Cm                                          G#
  Turns out he d been lying to both of them for oh so long
Eb              Bb       Cm                  G#
  They decided then he d never get away with doing this to them
Eb            Bb                        Cm         G#
  Two black cadillacs waiting for the ride down, ride down

            Cm
  And the preacher said he was a good man
          G#
  And his brother said he was a good friend
            Bb                                            F
  But the women in the two black veils didn t bother to cry
```

```
Bye, Bye Bye, Bye
        Cm
Yeah they took turns laying a rose down
           G#
Threw a handful of dirt into the deep ground
  Bb                                                      F
He s not the only one who had a secret to hide
                          Cm
Bye bye, bye bye, bye Bye
        G#
Yeah yeah

F                                                    Cm     Bb  G#
 It was the first and the last time they saw each other face to face
F                                          Cm        Bb G#
 They shared a crimson smile and just walked away

 And left the secret at the grave

           Cm
And the preacher said he was a good man
        G#
And his brother said he was a good friend
        Bb                                               F
But the women in the two black veils didn t bother to cry

Bye, Bye Bye, Bye
        Cm
Yeah they took turns laying a rose down
           G#
Threw a handful of dirt into the deep ground
  Bb                                                      F
He s not the only one who had a secret to hide
                        Cm          G#
Bye bye, bye bye, bye Bye
                        Cm
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
```