Verse 1

My baby s daddy never came to hear me sing when I asked him for some money it s the same old thing he ain t got no dough
spent it all on blow
and he said he had to pawn my wedding ring
He ain t never offered no ring to me and I can see he had a long row to hoe
Somebody gotta do it he ain t gonna do it guess i m doing it by myself

Chorus

Who s gonna raise these babies? These babies that we make?
Who s gonna teach them all the things that they need to know some day?
to be patient and kind, sharp as an arrow, sticking pretty close to the straight
and narrow
who s gonna raise these babies these babies that we make?

Verse 2

The man that I was married to for 18 years packed his get out bag and drank 18 beers left a dish in the sink for every year that s the last I saw of him last I heard he was on the run cause he robbed a Little Piggy with a stolen gun wouldn t you know, my teenage son wants to grow up to be just like him

Chorus

Who s gonna raise these babies? These babies that we make?
Who s gonna teach them all the things that they need to know some day?
to be patient and kind, sharp as an arrow, sticking pretty close to the straight
and narrow
who s gonna raise these babies these babies that we make?

Verse 3

My big brother raised me all by himself
My daddy died and my mother left He worked the railroad to provide our needs he lied about his age he was just 16
Now he s married to a girl from Bowling Green
She was a central Kentucky rodeo queen Iâ€™m rocking the baby in the rocking chair while they pick weeds in the evening air

Chorus

Who s gonna raise these babies? These babies that we make?

Who s gonna teach them all the things that they need to know some day?

to be patient and kind, sharp as an arrow, sticking pretty close to the straight
and narrow

who s gonna raise these babies these babies that we make?

who s gonna raise these babies these babies that we make?
