Bm

I think its finnaly time that im moving on

Dont tell me i should stay {Its too late now}

To think we can make this work somehow

You should know the truth {Its over}

Over and done

Ohh and i cant believe

All of this time youve had me thinking

Thinking you would call me late night

Knowing damn well you wouldnt do it

Telling me i was still on your mind

I dont know why you had to put me through it

And im thinking im still livin for your love

It was all over and you knew it

Although its gonna be hard to let this go

Boy this is something i gotta do

I guess its about time that im finnaly moving on

I dont really care if its right or wrong

And in spite of the way i love your touch

You know its gon be better for both of us

It hurts like hell but i got to try

You already know the reason why

So no matter whos right or wrong

I think its finnaly time that im moving on

(like verse:)

Gave you all of my heart

All of my body

All of my soul

All of my precious time

And you know its so hard loving somebody

I loved you so good baby you cant deny

You know this time that respect goes away

Let it fade away

And the only way to heal is to give me time and space

I guess its about time that im finnaly moving on

I dont really care if its right or wrong

And in spite of the way i love your touch

You know its gon be better for both of us

It hurts like hell but i got to try

You already know the reason why

So no matter whos right or wrong

I think its finnaly time that im moving on
