R2: (Beginning of interlude)

```
      R1              A              G
And I thought you were the moon in the sky,
      R1              A              G
but it turned out you were just a streetlight.
      R1              A              G
You were burning like a hole in the night.
      R1              F              A              G
You were burning like a city of electric light.
```

```
      R1              A              G
And I thought you were the moon in the skies,
      R1              A              G
but it turned out you were just a pair of eyes.
      R1              A              G
You were lurking like a creature in the night.
      R1              F              A              G
You were looking like a city of electric light.
```

R2
Hanging by your feet.
R2
Hanging in your sleep.
R2
Hanging in a dream.

R2
We connect the stars,

R2
every single one,
R2
hanging like the sun.
