

Travelling Man
Chameleon Circuit

This is my first time ear-transcribing a song without lyrics, so don't murder me if it's slightly off! I used a ukulele to figure it out, but it sounds good on guitar as well. :)

Song: Travelling Man
Artist: Chameleon Circuit
Transcribed by: Bonnie Kingett

F                C            Bb                F
Travelling man, such secrets to be told
F                C Bb                F
Alien man, running from the days of old
Out of his world, with nothing left to lose
F                C Bb                F
Travelling man, coming down to rescue you

Bb                                  Dm
You're hard to find, Time Lord
Bb                                  Dm            C
Too busy saving everything to stop

F                                  C            Bb
The travelling man will save the day
F                                  C            Bb
The travelling man will keep you safe
Bb                                  C                                  (C7)
Even if he has to die five hundred and seven times
F                                  C            Bb
The travelling man will save the day

[Harmonica solo!]

F                C            Bb                F
Waiting so long, for something to retrieve
F                C Bb                F
Gallifrey man, of his tragic history
F                C            Bb                F
Such a sharp mind, but broken are his hearts
F                C Bb
Engines in gear, time to put things in the past

Bb                                  Dm
There comes a time, Time Lord

Bb                      Dm                      C
When every boy must learn how to dance

F                      C                      Bb
The travelling man will save the day

F                      C                      Bb
The travelling man will keep you safe

Bb                      C                      (C7)
Even if he has to die five hundred and seven times

F                      C                      Bb                      C
The travelling man will save the day

Bb                      F
Everybody knows that everybody dies

Dm                      Am
But nobody knows it like him

Bb                      F
I think all the lights would drain out of the skies

Dm                      C
If he ever gave up trying

N.C.
Just this once... everybody lives!

F                      C                      Bb
The travelling man will save the day

F                      C                      Bb
The travelling man will keep you safe

Bb                      C                      (C7)
Even if he has to die five hundred and seven times

F                      C                      Bb
The travelling man will save the day

(The C7 chords are in brackets because they re not technically correct but it gives the chorus a nice edge. Leave them out if you want to :D)
