

Time To Reply
Charlie McDonnell

D
I found you this morning
A
When I was on break
F#
Thought you were funny
G
If a little insane

D
I quickly forgot you
A
And got on with my day
G
But then there you were
A
Back in my mind again

D
Figured I d find you
A
To see what you ve done
F#
It s very impressive
G
Looks like you have fun

D
I wanna say thank you
A
For brightening my day
G
I hope that I

Could do just the same

D A G
For you
D A
For you
G

And I know that you re busy

A

But I hope you find the time to reply

(I believe the pattern is D, A, G, A but I m not positive.)

D

I ve spent my whole evening

A

Sitting watching you

F#

But there s nothing left now

G

Could you make something new

D

I find we ve so much in common

A

How weird can it be

G

That I feel I know you

Though you don t know me

D

I know it sounds crazy

A

But I think if we met

F#

Spend time together

G

We would end up friends

D

And although it s unlikely

A

I think I ll be fine

G

Cause unlikely things

A

Happen all the time

D A G

I learned that from you,

D A

I learned that from you,

G

And I know that you re busy

A

But I hope you find the time to reply

(pause)

D A

It s been so long

G

And I haven t heard back

D A

I d tell you how long

G

But I think I ve lost track

D A

Is it really so hard

G

To write just a sentence

D-A-G

Or, two

D

I ve just seen your latest

A

And it was okay

F#

But it wasn t quite you

G

It seems like you ve changed

D

You still enjoying

A

Things that you do

G

Say that you are

But it doesn t ring true

D

I went back to see you

A

The way that you were

F#

Thought it might cheer me up

G

But it just didn t work

D

Thought that you should know that

A

I think that I m done

G

You re not just for me now

But I ve had fun

D A G

Watching you

D A

Watching you

G

And I know that you re busy

D

So don t worry you don t have to reply.
