intro: Em D C G

verse:

Em D C G
A warm afternoon in the middle of June,
Em D C G
And you didn't know that I'd fallen for you.
Em D C G
The long nights we stayed up, excuses we made up,
Em D C G
And I didn't know that you felt this way too.

chorus:

C G Em D
There's nothing as sweet as your voice is to me.
C G D
It's better than summer and spring.
C G Em D
The words that you speak bring such comfort to me
C G D
When we're miles apart and I'm lonely.

~filler~ play around with the chords, I'm not too sure here.

verse:

Em D C G
And as I recall, it was Presidents Hall

Em D C G
Where I found you, a year had gone past.

Em D C G
The long days without you spent thinking about you,

Em D C G
And all of the memories they came flooding back.

chorus:

C G Em D
There s nothing as sweet as your voice is to me.

C G D
It s better than summer and spring.

C G Em D
The words that you speak bring such comfort to me

C G D
When we re miles apart and I m lonely.

C G Em D
And darling I won t ever let you go,

C G Em D
So I just thought that I d let you know.

chorus:

C G Em D
There s nothing as sweet as your voice is to me.

C G D
It s better than summer and spring.

C G Em D
The words that you speak bring such comfort to me

C G D
When we re miles apart and I m lonely.
