 Before getting on their knees to pray

- (VII) Just so young with all their dreams and years to the end Strewn away in the rubble By the hatred of scared white men
- (VIII) It was early December in the year of 63 George Wallace defied what the courts they did decree
 - (VIV) They said make your school doors open for the child of black and white Wallace clenched up both his fists and called out for a fight

 Down in the Birmingham jail

 Bm

 You had a chance to live your life

 But now your locked...

 Bm

 In the Birmingham jail

- (VV) When the locals heard the news that day Their blood began to boil They decided the only good colored man Was down beneath the soil
- (VVI) So with their hat and money
 They began to conspire
 And soon in Birmingham the air was thick
 With Powder and Fire

Chorus
