There wasn't a place,
Bb F C Dm
He couldn't go.

Dm, Dm.

But the girl he met,
Was the best he'd ever seen,
He'd treat her kind,
And with esteem,
In the long run,
He asked her out,
She said I'm sorry chap,
You're not my man.

He never read the pulp,

And felt smart,

When she was vicious,

She cut men sharp,

But he still was determined,

To take risky ways in life,

It caught him up,

He paid the price.

Dm, Dm.

He'd say she's more,

Than icing on the cake ,

But everybody else ignored,

That grinning face,

Like a child he was susceptible to feminine charm,

But to a man it can do a real harm.

Chorus:

Oh, Johnny,

Get yourself on track,

Don t lose your mind,

For a girl who taints your heart ( Run away from that nuclear attack ) .
