Dm C Dm C ...

I ll try, to make you feel like home

[CONTINUE PATTERN]

No need to tell me that s my grand mistake
Let you stay, everyday, kiss your cares away
I m a fool for those tears on your cheeks
You re here so now weep, let me sing you to sleep

You don t trust me textin around
I get upset when your ex is in town
I see your face change, getting frustrated
When you can t figure out what I m thinking about, but

I don t know what I m suppose to think
When you fire all these questions bout the smallest things
My words don t work on this conversation babe
Can t we do this another day

Chorus

I know you re not mine, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know you re not blind, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know it s not your style to live in doubt but stick around for now
I ll try, to make you feel like home

I lift you up and turn you down
Try to keep it cool but girl I just don t know how It sounds so simple when you say
It s just a little thing I m gonna have to change

But it seems so outa place, it seems so far away babe, can t we do this another day now

Chorus

I know you re not mine, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know you re not blind, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know it s not your style to live in doubt but stick around for now
I ll try, to make you feel like home (2x)
