Choir Of Young Believers - Have I Ever Truly Been Here?
Tab by Miasmatic

This is a beautiful, melancholy and relatively easy song to play. Also, this is my first tab, so give a little constructive criticism please!

Capo on third

Intro & Bridge

Em G C Em

Em D Am G#

Em G C Em
You show me medicine cause you wanted to know what it meant to me

D Am
It means you re never free

Em G C Em
Rip, rip it out and throw, throw it all away, throw as far as you can

D Am G#
It s nothing to understand

Em G C
The ceremony s a chirade, still it made you cry again

Em
Seemed like nothing will change

G C
And though I wanted you to know, I can never let it go

Em
I keep pulling his hand

Am C
The ceremony s a chirade, still it made me cry again

G
Seemed like nothing will change

C D Em
And though I wanted you to know, I can never let it go

G

I keep pulling his hand

Am C
But have I ever truly been here?

BRIDGE

Em G C
I don't want a Cypress Hill, always close your eyes

Em
Cause as far as you can see

D Am
Is a world in which you disagree

G
And now you're burning your books, cause you realize

C Em
There's none of them to which you can relate

D C G#
We got nothing to celebrate

Em G C
The ceremony's a charade, still it made me cry again

Em
Seemed like nothing will change

G C
And though I wanted you to know, I can never let it go

G
I keep pulling his hand

C D Em
The ceremony's a charade, still it made you cry again

G
Seemed like nothing will change

C D Em
And though I wanted you to know, I can never let it go

G
I keep pulling his hand

Am C
But have I ever truly been here?
