

Crack Rock Steady
Choking Victim

This isnt quite what the actual song sounds like, but if you want an easier way to play it here it is:

After that little bass intro it goes

A

Crack rock steady, are you ready to stop

D

the rotten blue menace let s go kill us a cop

Crack rock steady, are you ready

E

Living above the law

Same chords for the rest of the song, sounds better played as bar chords.

Po little lice, the po little screws
The whitest gang crew, the hated boys in blue
The scabies on the street they infest the beat Fuckin my life but i wont admit defeat to them
Above the law, above the law i come no copper will be safe till they are dead and done Lets set em down low, hang em up high
Lets take all these piggies and have em crucified!

(CHORUS)

Hardcore, ruged and raw
In the streets of NY we re above the fucking law
It don t matter the color of your skin as long as you re not scandalous, commit no sin to me or my tribe, you would not be wise
Time to smell the ganja, open up your fuckin eyes
Step back and keep your attitude in check and show the crack rock steady much respect

(CHORUS)

Don t ya know, that satan is the man?
So listen very close cause we got a little plan
We re gonna have ta execute some rich important people
Gonna burn a lotta churches, topple lotta steeples
See a frown, turn that cross upside down grab a gun/baseball bat and lets go to fuckin town Let s kill the police, I ll be sayin little more but when the cops break down your door

Dont forget the choice is your s

(CHORUS)

And after that there s the last verse, dont know the words. Basically just have fun with this, mess around with different keys and speeds, whatever you like. My email is a.sparkie@comcast.net if you have any questions.
