I wasn t drunk enough to forget you last night
I tried real hard but then I called you twice
Thinkin maybe baby if you heard my name
A tide would rise to put out this flame
As the band was playin Auld Lang Syne
All new year cheer for last yearâ€™s crimes
I told my soul that I just won t hurt
A little white lie between the blood and dirt
```

```

C
She ain t comin home
      G
It ain t so hard to see
      D
That everyone s got someone
      Cadd9      G
But nobodies got me

Got a foot of snow out in the drive
Sayin give it up son why don t you stay inside
Gotta pair of your jeans on my bedroom floor
Sayin don t bother there s always more
So here s to breakin up in the Facebook age
With all the page right on the page
It s a desolate road and a hollow ground
To walk alone when you re so far down

She ain t comin home
It ain t so hard to tell
Guess this is where you land
When love is where you fell

Guess this is where you land
When love is where you fell

Guess this is where you land
When love is where you fell
