INTRO: Am

Am

Texas night, lovely senorita,

E

wonderin by, cuaght my eye

Am

and as we danced, i knew id never let her go-o

Am

stars looked down, flashin thata warnin

E

man beware, I didnt care,

Am

caught somewhere, tween midnight and the mornin glow.

Dm

Am

her hair was black as ebony, her skin was soft and white.

E

her perfume filled my head with dreams, my heart beat like a tamborine.

C

F

she whispered low, somethin in spanish and flashed those green eyes.

C

G

the moonlight and tequilla blinded me to her disguise.

C

F

Dm

lips like whine, brushed against mine and as she lured me in,

E

Am

I shoulda seen the devil s thumbprint, plain as sin.

Am

Am

mornin light, through the tattered curtains

E

hotel room, clock says noon

Am

i rub my head and feel a burnin in my brain

Am

she stole my watch, stole a hundred dollars

E

left me flat, but worse than that,

Am

she took my heart and didnt even leave her name

Dm

Am

I guess she made a fool of me, i bet im not the 1st

E

my head tells me its over now, but I cant help rememberin how, she whispered low, somethin in spanish and flashed those green eyes.

C

F

C

G

the moonlight and tequilla blinded me to her disguise.

C

F

Dm

lips like whine, brushed against mine and as she lured me in,

E

Am

I shoulda seen the devil s thumbprint, plain as sin.
